

- Are you a farmer or a grower?
- Do you buy food or flowers for your business?
- Could being part of a Cooperative help you grow your business?

Please join us for a discussion with

Tom Snyder, Ph D

Program Manager, Ohio Cooperative Development Center
The Ohio Cooperative Development Center, one of Ohio State University's South Centers, was established in 2001. Throughout the years, OCDC has assisted in helping groups form cooperatives and growing existing cooperatives.

Wednesday September 8th at 11 AM

Research and Technology Complex 1 (R1) Building
(east of Westwood on the North side; look for the solar panels)

RSVP to 419.530.3591 by Friday September 3rd

Sponsored by the University of Toledo Urban Affairs Center