BioWorks serves horticulture and specialty agriculture customers by providing environmentally responsible, safe, and cost-effective solutions.

Rich is responsible for promoting and supporting the use of BioWorks products in nine states from Minnesota and Missouri east to Ohio and Kentucky.

Rich graduated from Iowa State University in 1988 with a B.S. in Horticulture.

He completed his M.S. in 1998 in Horticultural Science at the University of Minnesota specializing in the physiology of adventitious rooting.

He has extensive greenhouse growing and management experience working with such businesses as: Red Oak Greenhouse in IA, Swift Greenhouse in IA, Natural Beauty of Florida, Green Circle Growers in OH, Len Busch Roses in MN, Green Gate Farms in MO, and Bergen's Greenhouse in MN.

Before he came to BioWorks, Inc. in 2006, he rounded out his experience by working inside sales and as a technical advisor to growers with a horticultural distributor.
